"Dave Chartier died at his home two miles north of this place last Thursday night. Dock Holderness, who is an old friend of the family, attended him a few minutes before he expired. He gave it out that Dave died of heart failure. That is a lie. Dave died from drinking too much of a very poor grade of mail order licker. This paper prints the truth."

"Tom Spradlin married Miss Cordie Meador last trades' day at the county seat. It ain't generally known, but the marriage was brought about mainly by a Remington shotgun manipulated by the bride's father, Tom concluding that marrying was the healthiest thing he could do until other arrangements could be made."

"Roger Lloyd, cashier of the state bank at Willow Grove, died Wednesday morning and was buried Friday by the Odd Fellows in Pleasant Mound cemetery. He had been taking this paper seven years and so far hadn't paid a cent, we thinking that he, being a banker, would pay some time. We will sell the account for two bits worth of fresh greens."

"Married: Miss Susie Scruggs and Horace Guffin last Saturday at the Methodist parsonage, the Rev. James C. Williams officiating. The bride is a very ordinary town girl, who flirts with all the traveling men she meets and never helped her mother three days all put together in her whole life. She is anything but a beauty, resembling a gravel pit in the face and walks like a duck. The bridegroom is a natural born loafer and bum. He never did a lick of work until his stepdaddy run him off from home last fall. He went to the county seat, and just before starving to death accepted a job as chambermaid in a livery stable. As soon as his ma found out where he was she went and got him and brought him home. He now resides at the home of his wife's father, and says that he has no definite plans for the future. Susie will have a hard row to hoe."

"Died, at Jayville, yesterday, James Mugford, aged 56 years, 5 months and 13 days. Deceased was a mild mannered pirate with a mouth for whiskey and an eye for boodle. He came here in the night with another man's wife and joined the church at the first chance. He owed us several dollars for the paper and a large meat bill, and you could hear him praying six blocks. He died singing 'Jesus Paid It All' and we think he was right as he never paid anything himself."

MR. HOOVER AND MUSH

AS Herbert C. Hoover is an able and educated man it is not quite clear why he persists in talking to Americans about the necessity for saving the flour for Europeans and eating cornmeal at home, because Europeans do not find cornmeal as palatable as flour, "not understanding its preparation."

If Europeans cannot take a printed recipe for mush, published in their own language, and make mush, how on earth can they make war? Mush is much more easily made, and is far more delightful than any feature of rightly made war save a bloodless victory.

Kentuckians, and Southerners generally, know all about corn bread and regard it, in all of its manifestations, as an American institution second in gloriousness to nothing but the constitution. They ate it in peace and will eat it in war, with a relish, but there are Americans who prefer flour bread. They are as much entitled to their preference as any European who, being hungry, says, "No, thank you," when invited to eat bread made of cornmeal, and turns up his nose.

Europeans have learned a great deal about how to make new-style guns, airplanes, gas, gas masks, trenches, war balloons, tractors and what not during the war. Could they not, by assiduous application to a matter of vital importance, with the assistance of Mr. Hoover and his lieutenants, and with the aid of the printing press and capable translators, learn to make mush?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Since at the very outset the Premier of France has shown Michaelis to be a liar and a Russian minister shows he is a falsifier, it becomes evident that Michaelis is the sort of chancellor the kaiser and the crown prince have been looking for all these years.—Kansas City Star.

The Louisville chap who, when drafted, threw out his chest and cried to the crowd: "Gold help the Germans; they have drawn me!" gave the best keynote to the country.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.
